

Royal Launches The Olympia HP Patio Door

Laval, Quebec (January 20, 2012) – Royal Building Products continues to build its image as a premier patio door developer of innovative products with the introduction of the OLYMPIA HIGH PERFORMANCE patio door.

“We have developed this high performance door in reply to a need expressed by our customers for a door achieving the highest thermal performances” to comment Eric Genereux, sales manager, window and door profile division.

The Olympia HP patio door was introduced at the Toronto Win-Door Show last November. “This new remarkable patio door is very successful in both new construction and remodeling applications” said Mr. Genereux.

The Olympia HP patio door offers superior durability and sturdiness with its PVC and wood frame and the steel & aluminum reinforced sashes. The full length weather stripping, the bulb seal at the pull rail jamb and the slope sill ensure an excellent resistance to air, water and wind. Fully welded sashes designed to use triple IG glass system.

This door meets the highest energy efficiency in the industry with double and triple high-energy glass options thus promising money savings on energy bills. A wide selection of options is offered with this unique product : twin-point lock, Euro Series handles in six finishes, sidelite & transom and various glazing and color options to suit any home décor.
